

Instructions: I Have, Who Has

Cut out the cards and give one to each student.

Please note: You may add as many more cards as the class requires and/or have students work together at the beginning.

The strategy is made out for 21 students.

If there are fewer students in the class:

- Some students might have 2 cards or the teacher may keep a few cards.
- If some cards are not used, the wording will have to be changed, since it is the last card that gives the clue for the first card.

If there are more students in the class:

- More definitions could be added. The last card always contains the definition for the first card.
- Or, 2 students might use 1 card.

The first student will begin, “Who has a founding member of the Political Equality League who was a noted agricultural reporter for the Manitoba Free Press.”

The student who has Cora Hind will answer, “I have Cora Hind, who has, “The Canadian...” and so on.

Option:

Students may be given a cheat sheet with all the definitions on it.
